he walked under the arches of the Rue du Rivoli, could not bear an enclosed and restricted atmosphere, apprehensive of being cluttered up with "trees," high mountains closing one in like a "prison," and takes that lay moving, "dead," among them.

It is this sense of responsibility from this account that Valère's hatred for his father served him in his attack on the music business.

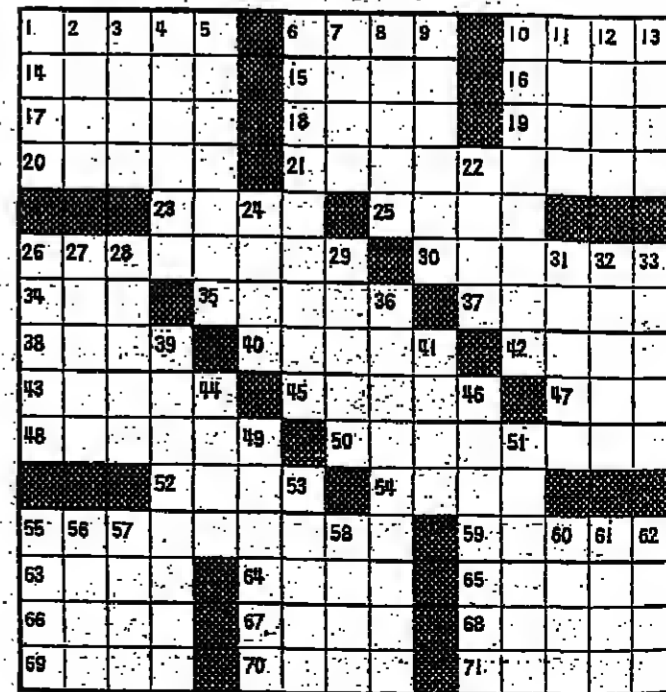

But how timely her story is! Pierre Boulez, another French composer-conductor, is now Minister of Culture of the National Public Monuments. In the March 19, 1972, Sunday Times, a listener attacked Boulez's attention to the 20th-century repertoire and threatened to withdraw financial support. Within the next 50 years ago, makers of "the new music" still face.

Home Run in 11th Defeats Jenkins

Edward's homer, his second of the season, was the first run of the game, since the first inning. Ron Santo hit a two-run homer for the Cubs in the top of the first and Lee May tied it with a two-run blast off Jenkins in the bottom of the inning.

Jenkins blanked the Astros on two hits from the second through the 10th and Ken Forsch shut out the Cubs on four hits from the second until he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the ninth. Jimmy Ray stopped the Cubs for the last time in the bottom of the ninth, two innings to pick up his second victory against no losses.

ARLINGTON, Texas, April 25 (UPI)—Two-run singles by Toby Herrrah and Larry Blittner in the sixth and seventh innings padded the Rangers' lead to a 4-1 victory over the California Angels last night and a four-game sweep of the Rangers' first home series.

Texas wrapped up the game with three runs in the seventh inning. A single and two walks against Angels' pitcher Andy Messersmith landed on bases to set the stage for Blittner's two-run single. A bases-loaded walk by reliever Lloyd Allen brought in the final run.

Leo Cardenas drove in two of the Rangers' runs with a solo homer in the third and a single in the seventh. Spencer also hit a solo homer for the losers in the sixth.

The Scoreboard

TENNIS—At Denver, Arthur Ashe of Miami Beach beat his countryman Tom Leonard in the opening round of the WCT United Bank Classic, 6-7, 6-4, 6-3. In other matches, Charlie Pasarell of Sancture, Puerto Rico, beat Bob Maud of South Africa, 6-7, 6-3, 7-6; Bob Lutz of Los Angeles beat Jeff Borowick of Berkeley, Calif., 2-6, 7-5, 6-3; Allan Stone of Australia whipped Yugoslav Nikola Pilić, 7-6, 7-5; Fred Stolle of Australia defeated fellow Aussie Bill Bowrey, 6-3, 6-4; and Britain's Roger Taylor beat Graham Silwell, also of England, 3-6, 6-4, 7-6.

Sharman Named Top NBA Coach

NEW YORK, April 25 (UPI).—Bill Sharman, who has guided the Los Angeles Lakers to the finals of the National Basketball Association playoffs in his first year at the club's helm, today was named coach of the year in the NBA.

Sharman, 45, who last season led the Utah Stars to the American Basketball Association title, guided the Lakers to a 69-13 season record during the regular season, including an NBA record of 33 straight victories.

He got 42 first-place votes in the balloting of three sports writers from each of the NBA's 17 cities on the membership of the team and at Atlies of the Warriors for second with three each.

Utah 139 (Wise 34, Jones 33), Indiana 130 (Daniels 30, Keller 24). Blaine lead Western Division best-of-seven final, 2 games to 2.)
